

NEWS OF THE TERRITORY

Summary of Past Week's Happenings Over the Territory of Arizona, Borrowed, Stolen or Revamped.

William Jennings Bryan spoke at Phoenix Tuesday night in favor of the constitution.

February is a short month, and if one observes all the holidays it provides, not much room is left for business speculation.

Last Friday was observed as Arbor day in the southern part of the territory. We will have an Arbor day up this way the forepart of April.

From all over the territory come reports of great rains and snow. This will be a banner year for stockmen, if an abundance of water and feed will do the business.

Joe Tinker, aged about 22 years, died in this city the morning of January 30, 1911. The conclusion of the coroner's jury was that he died from the effects of injecting morphine into his person. He leaves a mother and four brothers. The funeral took place January 31 from the Catholic church under the direction of Lester Ruffner. Prescott Courier.

The territorial highway, as shown by the new map, runs from Yuma to Phoenix and one branch by way of Tucson, Benson, Tombstone, Bisbee and Douglas. From Douglas a line goes north to Wilcox almost in a straight line, and starting north a short distance east of Douglas and going through Globe to Phoenix; from Phoenix, to Prescott, Flagstaff and the Grand Canyon.

The twenty-ninth annual communication of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Arizona is to be held in Tucson the week of February 14. On February 13, the day before the regular session, a special session of the Grand Commandery of Arizona will be held. All the other Masonic bodies will convene February 14 and remain in session the rest of the week. Grand Master Frank Thomas of Phoenix will preside over the deliberations of the grand lodge.

The Indian bill, passed recently, carries an amendment by Senator Flint, providing that the Yuma Indians shall have an allotment of ten acres each, instead of five acres, as originally proposed. The bill appropriates the sum of $18,000 to make up the difference. Authority is granted to the Reclamation Service to put water on the Indian lands, the government to be reimbursed for the outlay by the sale of the lands not required in the Indian allotments.—Yuma Sun.

Dr. Christian H. Risser, who has been for the past year in charge of the government hospital for Navajo Indians at the Leupp Indian Agency, Navajo reservation, Arizona, which post he took in order to study health conditions among the Indians, has resigned to engage in private practice at Mesa, Arizona, where he will make his home. Before coming to Arizona, Dr. Risser was resident physician of St. John's Hospital at St. Louis, first assistant in surgery to Dr. John Brown of that hospital, was connected with the health department, and at one time assistant in physiology at the St. Louis University Medical School, from which institution he was graduated.

The Roosevelt reservoir contains more water at present than ever before—and the rainy season has just commenced. And, by the way, the said reservoir dam is to be dedicated on March 18, when Ex-President Roosevelt will be on deck to conduct the ceremonies. The dam is located 70 miles northeast of Phoenix. It is 1,800 feet long, 280 feet high and contains 326,000 cubic yards of masonry. It was erected in the course of five years and will cost the government in the neighborhood of $8,500,000.

Col. W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) passed through here Sunday, in an automobile owned and driven by Shad Bowyer, of Tucson. John Taite, of Cody, Wyoming, accompanied Col. Cody. They were headed for Eagle Tail Mountain, Yuma county, to investigate some mining property in which they are interested. Col. Cody had been sojourning for several weeks past at Camp Bonito, which is situated about five miles north-east of Oracle, this county, where he has a five-stamp Merrill's mill operating on scheelite ore and turning out high grade tungsten concentrates. —Florence Blade-Tribune.
